EL BOLETÍN

NEW CHEF—NEW MENU

There's a new chef on our team, and we couldn't be more excited to spread the news. Juan Borjas is now the Executive Chef at The Spillover and here's why you should be excited. He started his culinary career working at Hillstone in Coral Gables, where he met our owner Matt Kuscher. In 2009, to further his culinary skills, Chef Borjas made a move to NYC to study at the French Culinary Institute. After that, he worked at the legendary Le Cirque, and Stanton Social, which was part of the Tao group. He moved on to become the Executive Chef for Beauty & Essex for three years and then had the honor and privilege of cooking at the White House for President Obama. Juan has appeared on the Food Network's television show Chopped and has recipes in the published book, "Share: Delicious & Surprising recipes to pass around your table." Now he holds the helm in the Spillover kitchen, and he has some genuinely magical dishes to share with you.

SPILLOVER'S NEW MENU

Evolution is part of every great story. To grow and challenge ourselves to strive for greatness has always been our motto. So KUSH Hospitality is charging ahead with a menu revamp we feel embodies the essence of The Spillover brand. The flavors on this menu leave you wanting more, bite after bite. We dare say, Coconut Grove has never tasted this good. With the culinary genius, Chef Borjas on our team, we're reinvigorating, reinventing, and serving dishes that will surely enchant your palate. But don't worry, we will still be keeping our core menu items but will also be adding Juan's signature dishes he is known for like is Khao Soi Style Mussels and his amazing Prawn Toast. Reservations available on our website, and highly encouraged. Visit www.spillovermiami.com and book yours today.

CRISTY'S PICKS OF THE MONTH

WHAT IS CRISTY CRAVING THIS MONTH?

This preggio is seeing the light at the end of the tunnel, and there's no stronger craving for me right now than all things seafood. Thankfully, Chef Juan Borjas, over at the Spillover, has reinvigorated our menu with dishes like our Khao Soi Style Mussels. This mind-blowing dish includes mussels steamed and steeped in a coconut curry broth (that you could drink all on its own) and topped with cauliflower popcorn, crispy wontons and a side of toasted sourdough. Simply put, it's total food porn. I can't stress this enough; you MUST GO, and savor the killer meals Chef Juan is preparing—He's changing the game.

XO Cristy

KEEPING UP WITH KAPTAIN KUSH

Dear Kush Lovers,
Kaptain Kush here, with a public service announcement for the safety of all the good citizens of Miami and Hialeah. Halloween is coming up, and that means there will be an influx of superhero imposters walking the streets. For your safety, everyone must be vigilant to avoid mistaking these posers for real heroes. Be advised, the only true superheroes in this town are Hialeah Spiderman and yours truly, Kaptain Kush. Stay safe, stay woke, and don't do anything I wouldn't do.

Peace, love, and KUSH.

LOCAL VENDOR SPOTLIGHT HIALEAH KICKS ASS—SWAG FOR ALL.

Hialeah Kicks Ass is the brainchild of local artist, Ferny Coipel, who set out to share the awesomeness that is Hialeah. With so many beautiful memories fueling this Hialeah pride, Ferny created a sticker and array of swag to help support the youth community in the city of progress. All the proceeds from the merchandise sales go to benefit the kids of the Hialeah charity, Manos Internacional. La Cocina in Hialeah is all in for the cause and proudly uses the "Hialeah Kicks Ass" stickers as a cocktail garnish.
